Commission for Liturgy

GUIDELINES FOR LITURGY COMMITTEES

There should be harmony and diligence among all those involved in the effective preparation of each liturgical celebration in accordance with the Missal and other liturgical books, both as regards the rites and as regards the pastoral and musical aspects. This should take place under the direction of the rector of the church and after consultation with the faithful in things that directly pertain to them. However the Priest who presides at the celebration always retains the right of arranging those things that pertain to him. General Instruction of the Roman Missal #111

O God, you have gathered us together, as Moses gathered the chosen people,
and as Jesus gathered his disciples.
We stand in awe at the call you have made,
bidding us to serve your Church at prayer.
Make us mindful of your sacred mysteries and help us celebrate them in spirit and truth.
We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

Even in the liturgy the Church has no wish to impose a rigid uniformity in matters that do not affect the faith or the good of the whole community; rather the Church respects and fosters the genius and talents of the various races and peoples. The Church considers with sympathy, and, if possible, preserves intact the elements in these peoples' way of life that are not indissolubly bound up with superstition and error. Sometimes in fact the Church admits such elements into the liturgy itself, provided they are in keeping with the true and authentic spirit of the liturgy.

Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy # 37

What is Liturgy?

The word 'liturgy' is used to describe the common public prayer and worship of the Church. The celebration of the Eucharist and all other sacraments hold a central place in the liturgy and life of the Church. As well as these sacramental celebrations, the Liturgy of the Hours and those services mandated for use by lay leaders of prayer in the absence of a priest, also have a place in our liturgical tradition

Public worship, the 'work of the people' (in Greek Leitourgia) holds such an esteemed place in the life of the church that it is vital that some members of each worshipping community share particular responsibility for preparing and caring for the church's liturgy.

The liturgy is the summit toward which the activity of the Church is directed; at the same time it is the fount from which all the Church's power flows

Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy #10

Many gifts of time, talent and organisation can come together in a community in the service of the people's worship. The Liturgy Committee takes responsibility both for the discernment within the parish or other worshipping community, of the gifts needed for the assembly's worship and for the appropriate use of these gifts in liturgical ministry, to glorify God and to bring people to holiness.

Organisation of the Liturgy Committee

Although the structure, personnel and routine of the Liturgy Committee will vary from place to place, it is always appropriate that

a) the pastor, or the pastor's representative, is an integral member of the Liturgy Committee and a regular participant in Committee meeting;

b) the Liturgy Committee as a whole, and each member individually, shares responsibility for the overall care of the liturgy;

c) membership is drawn from those who have a knowledge, role, or love of the liturgy, and time to commit to regular meetings. Ideally the committee is a true microcosm in age, ethnicity, gender and education of the community they serve. They are prayerful, creative, inspiring people who are open to learning, to others ideas and experience;

d) regular ongoing spiritual and liturgical formation is provided to ensure that all members understand and serve the Church's liturgical requirements entrusted to them. This formation may be an integral part of each meeting, while allowing for more thorough catechesis as required.

e) the Liturgy Committee has clearly established ways of liaising with all liturgical ministry groups, the pastoral council and other community groups with liturgical needs.

f) the Liturgy Committee meets at least once a month;

g) in its personnel and operation, the Committee acknowledges and affirms the unique place of Maori as tangata whenua and the bicultural nature of the Church in the Diocese.

In the reform and promotion of the liturgy...full and active participation by all the people is the aim to be considered before all else. For it is the primary and indispensable source from which the faithful are to derive the true Christian spirit.

Role of the Liturgy Committee

The Liturgy Committee's role will vary from place to place. The following list describes appropriate areas of responsibility and activity. It is not a list of mandatory requirements; it is more a checklist of what can be done.

1. The Liturgy Committee monitors the liturgical needs of the parish, or other worshipping community, and determines suitable ways of responding to those needs.
2. The Liturgy Committee ensures periodic assessment of the community's liturgy, including procedures, music, personnel, areas of emphasis, areas of neglect.
3. The Liturgy committee ensures that the needs of the following are addressed:
 - Lay Leaders of Prayer
 - Leaders of Children's Liturgy of the Word
 - Ministers of the Word
 - Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion
 - Ministers of Music (organists, cantors, other instrumental or vocal musicians)
 - Ministers of Pastoral Care of the Sick and Bereaved
 - Ministers of the Altar (Servers, Acolytes)
 - Ministers of Initiation (RCIA, RCIC, Infant Baptism, Confirmation, First Holy Communion, First Penance)
 - Ministers of Marriage Preparation
 - Ministers of the Assembly (Hospitality, Collection, Environment)
 - Deacons
4. The Liturgy Committee provides opportunities for study and reflection on the lectionary for all members of the assembly, especially Initiation catechists, Children's Liturgy leaders, proclaimers of the Word, preparers of General Intercessions, music ministers
5. The Liturgy Committee provides opportunities for on-going spiritual and liturgical formation for themselves, for all ministers of the liturgy, and appropriate liturgical catechesis for the assembly.

6. The Liturgy Committee ensures that rosters are operating effectively.

7. The Liturgy Committee conducts medium and long-term planning, in accordance with the Seasons (Advent, Christmas, Lent, Easter, Pentecost, Ordinary Time), Solemnities and Feasts in liturgical time, as well as local celebrations and needs.

8. The Liturgy Committee respects and responds to the cultural needs within the worshipping community in its ongoing development of the liturgy.

9. The Liturgy Committee understands the nature and purpose of the Liturgy of the Hours (The Divine Office) and seeks to celebrate the Hours in suitable pastoral ways.

10. The Liturgy Committee upholds the importance of non-liturgical worship and helps to foster varied forms of communal prayer.

11. When making changes to the liturgical environment, (e.g. rearrangement of furniture, installation of a stained glass window,) the Liturgy Committee enlists the help of others with liturgical expertise, as well as those with expertise in related areas such as art, architecture, interior design etc

12. In the design, building and renovation of churches and other places of worship, the Liturgy Committee ensures that the Diocesan Guidelines for Design, Renovation or Building of a Church or Worship Space To the Glory of God are followed in order that the Church's liturgical requirements be understood and satisfied.
