XI. PRAYER AND SPIRITUAL REFLECTION AT MEETINGS

Pastoral Council meetings differ from business or non-church committee meetings. Time set aside for prayer and faith sharing is essential to each meeting. This does not mean a simple opening prayer but a sustained time. Prayer time could be spent breaking open the readings for the coming Sunday or in some form requiring members to reflect and respond. It is a way of building the Council into a faith community. Ideally, the meetings of all parish groups would begin this way.

A PROCEDURE FOR BREAKING OPEN THE WORD

A different member should be designated to lead this reflection for each meeting. The leader should provide a copy of the Gospel for the coming Sunday for each person.

- Begin with the sign of the Cross;
- One person reads the gospel aloud;
- Invite members to share a word or phrase which spoke to them (no comments from them or anyone else. It is fine if different people choose the same word or phrase);
 - A second person reads the gospel aloud; the group listens with this question in mind: What message does this reading have for me personally?
- share reflections among the group (no comments on anyone else's sharing);
- A third person reads the gospel aloud while the following question is pondered: What message does this have for us as a pastoral council?
 OR What message does this have for our parish in the circumstances All these reflections can be shared and discussed;
- Close with a spontaneous or formal (for example, Glory be...) prayer.

Ongoing formation and spiritual nourishment can be gained also by Breaking open the Word with a study resource for example, Caritas Lenten Reflection, papal document, or liturgy document before conducting the "business" of the meeting.

God's word is living and active, sharper than any twoedged sword. Hebrews 4:12

> In the sacred books the Father who is in heaven comes lovingly to meet his children and talks with them.
